BOOKS with Chris Jull

Over the next two issues, I'll be exploring character driven books, and books driven by plot alone.

This may seem artificial, and to an extent it is.

So to characters:

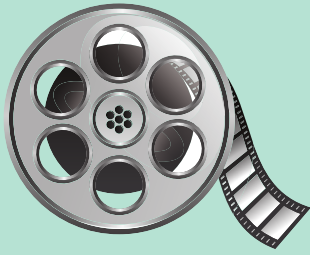

- Daniel Silva's Gabriel Allon was a hitman for Mossad, and briefly its director. Now he is working at his first love, the restoration of paintings. Still trouble finds him.
- John Sandford writes mysteries set in Minnesota. His characters Davenport and Flowers are works of genius.
- Ace Atkins has an unmatched way with characters. It has been said of him, that he sets his characters loose upon the pages.
- Sheriff Quinn Colson is said to take Atkins to places he may not want to go.

Thomas Perry has created Jane Whitfeld, a native woman who helps people disappear. More on the great Mr. Perry in the next issue.

The Library has several titles by these authors. Enjoy!
